DEADLOCK IN NEW HAMPSHIRE BROKEN.

Democratic Candidate Hollis Elected as Senator.

Three Other Nominees for Office Withdraw as Obstructionists.

CONCORD, N. H., March 13.—Henry F. Hollis, Democrat, was today elected United States Senator from New Hampshire, with 189 votes, three more than the number required. John H. Bartlett, the new Republican caucus candidate, had 121 and Edward N. Pearson, Republican, who today retired from the contest, 14. Henry B. Quinby, Republican, had 13 and Robert P. Bass, Progressive, 12. The scattering votes numbered 17, there were 3 members absent and 54 paired.

The deadlock, which has continued since the daily balloting began January 14, was broken by three Democratic members from Manchester, who had supported Gordon Woodbury.

Before today's ballot was taken Senator Joyal, speaking also for Representatives Jannelle and Rickard, announced that while they had opposed the Hollis candidacy on principle, they felt that it would be wrong to continue longer as obstructionists and the three would vote for Hollis.

Two Republican members and all but two Democrats supported the successful candidate.

The newly elected Senator is a native of this city, where he has been engaged in the practice of law since his graduation, with high honors, from Harvard University in 1892. He is 43 years old. Mr. Hollis has been identified with Democratic politics since becoming a voter. He was the party's candidate for governor and for Congress on several occasions, but the only elective office that he has held was a single term as representative in the legislature in 1899.

MAY NOT BE AMBASSADOR.

McCombs Anxious to Retain Chairmanship of National Committee.

WASHINGTON, March 13.—Chairman William F. McCombs of the Democratic national committee told President Wilson today, during a conference at the White House, that he preferred not to accept the post of ambassador to France that he might remain in private life and probably retain the chairmanship of the national committee. President Wilson urged McCombs not to decline the offer definitely until he had considered it further and Mr. McCombs agreed to do so.

The President told him that he was earnestly desirous of having him accept a foreign post, inasmuch as he had declined to become a member of the cabinet. The President asked Mr. McCombs to hold his mind open until at least April 1. Mr. McCombs said later to inquirers that he was so strongly urged by the President that he felt it his duty to give the question more serious and careful consideration.

Mr. McCombs declared that the President had determined to pick out diplomatic representatives solely on a basis of ability rather than wealth. It is the President's wish to have the United States represented abroad by the most capable men, even though they may not be able to live up to the social precedents of their predecessors.

Mr. McCombs said he thought that even if he were to accept the post of ambassador to France he might not resign as chairman of the Democratic national committee, as he did not think he would stay abroad for the full period of the administration. Close friends of Mr. McCombs, who talked with him after he left the White House, declared that he was practically certain that McCombs would not accept a diplomatic post.

Intimations have been received in Washington that Richard Olney might decline the post of ambassador to Great Britain, offered to him by President Wilson. Friends with whom Mr. Olney has been in communication thought the veteran diplomat would not accept the post, because his law practice had become so extended that he did not feel it possible to abandon that work at the present time. No word had been received at the White House early today from Mr. Olney. Telegrams have been dispatched to him by many close friends of President Wilson urging him to accept. National Chairman McCombs was among those who said he hoped Mr. Olney would find it possible to accept the embassy.

IN ASSIGNMENT OF PLACES.

Work of Democratic "Steering Committee" of Senate Practically Over.

WASHINGTON, March 13.—The work of the Democratic "steering committee" of the Senate, in assignment of new committee places, practically was finished today. A short session of a sub-committee this morning perfected reports to be made to a full committee later and the committee assignments probably will be submitted to a caucus of Democratic Senators tomorrow.

Speculation still exists today as to a number of the most important chairmanships. The bitter personal fight made by Senator Tillman for chairmanship of the appropriations committee left that position in doubt, although it was believed that Senator Martin would be the choice of the "steering committee". Senator Martin is in line for the chairmanship of the commerce committee, but should he be given the other, it is understood that Senator Clarke of Arkansas may take the commerce chairmanship. The naval affairs committee to which Senator Tillman would be assigned, if not given the appropriations committee, would otherwise fall to Senator Smith of Maryland.

The chairmanship of the new committee on banking and currency will go to Senator Owen of Oklahoma, according to authoritative information today. Senator Stone, who was talked up for this place, will retain membership on other important committees and receive the chairmanship of the Indian committee.

HOUSE FOR POPULAR ELECTION OF SENATORS.

Democrats and Progressives Overcome Republicans.

Resolution for a New Court House for Newport County.

[Special despatch to The News.]

PROVIDENCE, March 13.—The Democrats of the house scored a big victory today over the Republicans, securing the passage of the resolution favoring the popular election of United States Senators. Ex-Governors Garvin and Higgins were present to see the Democratic leaders rally to their support the Progressives and Democrats in a solid front, and then obtain sufficient following from the opponents of the machine in the Republican party to pass the resolution, 64 to 39. House Leaders Sumner and Hammill fought strenuously to stem the tide, but to no avail. Despite the action of the committee on special legislation, which had reported the resolution with the recommendation that it be indefinitely postponed, the resolution was passed and transmitted to the senate. There it is expected that it will be lost in one of the committee pigeon-holes.

In the house a resolution was introduced for a new court house for Newport county, and by concurrent action of the senate Camp Thomas was given the use of the state armory at Newport for April 10. The act allowing Newport permission to borrow $55,000 was reported from committee and goes to the calendar.

Papers of incorporation were issued today to the A. & H. G. Hammett Company of Newport, with a capital of $60,000, to engage in the lumber, brick and hardware business in that city. The incorporators named are Harry A. Hammett, Marian G. Green and Gustavus Stimpson, all of Newport, Edward Hammett of Chicago and Florence H. Brown of Wilmington, Del.

In the senate an amendment to the state regulations for trained nurses was reported as was the resolution for a special committee to revise the laws to correspond with the recent amendment to the constitution.

Senator Beeckman of Newport, for the judiciary committee, reported an amendment to the act entitled offences against private property. Calendar.

The militia committee reported resolutions for the police and firemen of Providence and Pawtucket to use the state armories in their respective cities and for the use of the Newport armory by Camp Thomas.

The fourty-fourth annual report of the State Board of Charities and Corrections was received. If Governor Pothier's plan of consolidation goes through this will be the last report of this body.

Senator Pierce of Cranston introduced a resolution for the appointment of acommission, composed of four doctors, one a woman; and one lawyer, to examine into the cause and means of suppression of insanity. Judiciary committee.

Senators Wilcox and Wilbour presented petitions for the passage of teh act for the protection of trap fishers.

Senator Bennett of Woonsocket introduced four health acts, one for the use of sanitary drinking cup, one for the sanitary inspection of hotels and boardings-houses and two relative to contagious diseases. Judiciary committee.

In the house a number of amendments to charters were reported from committees, a provision for pensioning firemen of the city of Pawtucket, an act authorizing Newport to hire $55,000 to pay an old note and for improvements, an act changing the Jamestown financial meeting from June to April, and an act for the amendment of the charter of the Newport & Providence Railway company. All went to the calendar.

The act providing for the payment of daily mileage to legislators was also reported back favorably and went on the calendar.

Mr. Levy of Newport introduced a resolution providing for the appointment of a joint committee to inquire into the advisability of the erection of a new court house for Newport county. Judiciary committee.

In addition to the passage of the United States Senator resolution, there das also taken from he calendar and pased the resolution paying Barker Bros. for tho work at the Newport County jail, and an appropriation of $50,000 for the state institutions until the appropriation bill is passed.

SERVIAN SOLDIERS KILLED.

Shells From Turkish Cruiser Cause Fatalities on Transports.

BELGRADE, March 13.—About 50 Servian soldiers were killed on board Servian transports at San Giovanni di Medua on the Adriatic coast yesterday, by shells from Turkish cruiser Hamidieh. Much of the ammunition on the transports exploded.

OPPOSITIONISTS EJECTED.

Former Speaker in Hungarian Parliament Declares Acts Illegal.

BUDAPEST, March 13.—Ten members of the opposition in the lower house of the Hungarian Parliament were ejected by the police this morning, and the sitting was suspended owing to turbulent interruptions of the proceedings. Julius Justh, a former speaker of the house, protested against the use of force and declared that all the acts of the present Parliament were illegal. The whole of the members of the opposition then left the house in a body.

EXPLAINED TO FINANCE BOARD.

Urgency of Bill to Increase Peace Footing of French Army.

PARIS, March 13.—The urgency of the French government's bill to increase the peace footing of the army has been pointed out to the finance and military committees of the Chamber of Deputies by Eugene Etienne, minister of war, according to a semi-official note.

OXFORD WINS FIFTH CONSECUTIVE VICTORY.

Superior Power Carries Them to the Front at the Finish.

Cambridge Leads for Half the Distance, But Then Falls Back.

PUTNEY, England, March 13.—Oxford won the annual boat race with Cambridge on the Thames today by a quarter of a length. The race was rowed over the historic course from Putney to Mortlake, which has been used for the purpose for 70 years, and took place late in the afternoon, owing to the lateness of the tide.

Cambridge won the toss for choice of stations and the starting pistol was fired at 4:38. Cambridge immediately took the lead and maintained it, pulling a stroke of 36 to the minute. By the time Craven Steps had been reached Cambridge was half a length ahead. At the mile the Cambridge crew was still leading and at Hammersmith bridge, about half the distance, was a half length in front.

Oxford then began to gain slowly. By the time the two crews had reached Barnes bridge, a little over a quarter of a mile from the finish, Cambridge was still leading, but then the superior power of the Oxford crew carried them to the front and they won by a quarter of a length. Oxford's time was 20 minutes, 53 seconds.

Oxford has now won 39 races and Cambridge 30, while one was a dead heat.

The "battle of the Blues" for the aquatic honors of the year between eight-oared crews representing Oxford and Cambridge Universities, Dark Blue and Light Blue respectively, attracted, as usual, many thousands of spectators. Beginning almost with the dawn, the citizens of London began to surge over the bridges crossing the Thames between Putney and Mortlake and then waited patiently along the banks for the one fleeting glimpse which was the most they hoped to catch of the contestants in this great amateur sporting event.

The Oxford crew was, as usual, the favorite owing to its greater opportunities for practice on the Thames. The expectation was general that the Dark Blues would make it five straight by winning today, but Cambridge had many warm backers, especially among the non-collegiate portion of the crowd. Oxford not only had the advantage of having half the famous crew which won so handily last year, but the further benefit of having selected today's oarsmen last term. The result was a perfect machine composed of as heavy men as have occupied the Dark Blue shell in many years.

Although lacking in experience as compared with the Oxford oarsmen, the wearers of the Light Blue were figured to have a much better chance than last year, not only because the men proved themselves better fighters during training but also on account of the fact that the Dark Blues were said to have reached top form two weeks ago. The Cantabs weighed slightly under four pounds less than their rivals and were pronounced by experts the best crew that has come from the Cam in the present decade. For the first time in the annual race between the two 'Varsity crews, Cambridge rowed in a centre-seated boat.

As in the past the majority of the oarsmen on both crews learned to handle the oar at Eton, but the Colonel Rhodes Scholars are beginning to break into this last stronghold of English sport. Last year C. W. B. Littlejohn of Melbourne rowed seven and today two Australians, H. K. Ward, and C. L. Baillieu, were in the Oxford shell.

Great precautions were taken to guard against any outrage by militant suffragettes which might mar the race. The boat-houses were watched throughout the night and women were forbidden to stand on the bridges under which the racing crews passed. Eleven boats along the course, too, were compelled to come to an anchorage with the exception of the judges' launch and the steamers officially authorized to follow the race. An endeavor was also made to keep women off the river during the contest, but this was found impracticable.

The scenes along the banks of the Thames were animated. During the long hours of waiting for the racers to appear the spectators were entertained by all varieties of show men. Many persons brought their luncheon and at parts of the course the scene resembled a big picnic.

USED BY SUFFRAGETTES.

Destructive Instruments Unearthed in Storehouse by Detectives.

LONDON, March 13.—An extensive storehouse of destructive instruments in the Kensington district, used by the militant suffragettes in their attack on private and public property, was unearthed today by detectives from Scotland yard.

Armed with a warrant for the arrest of Olive Hocken, who is wanted on a charge of being concerned in an attempt to burn the members' pavilion on the Roehampton golf links a few weeks ago, the detectives searched an artist's studio in Camden Hill Gardens and found under the flooring three sets of telegraph wire-cutting apparatus. In other parts of the building bottles of corrosive fluid, such as has been used in letter box outrages, hammers, flints and other tools for breaking windows were discovered, as well as a number of false identification plates for automobiles.

Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst has recovered from her indisposition and has left for Scotland to continue her campaign.

THE SALEM'S TESTS.

Wireless Experiments Continue on Return Trip From Gibraltar.

The Navy Department has been advised that scout cruiser Salem, which has been conducting wireless tests with the Arlington station on a trip across the Atlantic, will leave Gibraltar at once and continue the experiments on the return voyage to Hampton Roads.

It is known that the Salem received continuously by daylight from the Arlington station up to a distance of about 2,400 miles and that she was able to transmit to Arlington continuously by daylight up to about 1,300 miles. Night ranges were much greater. General confirmation of the special apparatus under test has been received at the Navy Department but a complete report was not sent by cable, since authoritative conclusions can be drawn only after analysis of the Salem's detailed records in connection with those kept at the Arlington station. The data gathered on the return voyage will also be checked before a complete announcement is made.

The Salem was permitted by the British government to use the lofty antennae of the Gibraltar station for special experiments in receiving from Arlington. No report of these experiments has been received.

Epworth League Literary Meeting—Paradise Club Well Attended.

[Regular correspondence of The News.]

The March literary meeting of the Epworth League was held Wednesday evening in the Methodist Episcopal Church parlors. The exercises were opened by the president, Mr. William L. Brown, and following the singing of several hymns the evening was placed in the hands of Miss M. Medora Ward, superintendent of the literary department.

The roll-call was read by Miss Ida B. Brown, the responses being either humorous readings or stories, with a small fine for non-compliance. Each member then received 10 toothpicks, to be considered as forfeits. Should any one, in the course of the rest of the conversation of the evening, say "Yes," "No," or nod the head, a forfeit was the penalty. Slips of paper and pencils being distributed, Miss Ward propounded a series of nine questions, each of which should contain in the reply only words whose first letter was among the initials of the writer. These were read in turn and caused much merriment. Those by Mr. Charles Peckham were especially clever and strikingly applicable.

When the forfeits secured during the evening were totaled it was found that Mrs. Tiisha A. Peckham had the largest number 19, and to her was awarded the book, "The Prodigal Judge" by Vaughan Kester. The consolation prize was tied by a number who had only one forfeit, and was finally given to Mrs. Walter L. Barker, a box of toothpicks.

Having omitted a meeting last week, the Paradise Club had an unusually large gathering Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Prescom S. Peckham on Green End avenue. Mrs. Peckham conducted the current events, which included many pictures of the families of President Wilson and Vice President Marshall. Miss Elizabeth M. Peckham presented a paper on "Mount Vernon" and various views of the place were shown by Miss Lydia Peabody; also a number of post cards by Mrs. Harry E. Peckham. Light refreshments were served.

The late J. Mitchell Clark leaves, besides a sister, Mrs. Eugene Sturtevant of Middletown, one brother, Mr. Howard L. Clark of Providence, who owns a bungalow on Indian avenue at the southeast shore, near Third beach. This he built on the Clark lot and occupied at intervals last summer.

Rev. F. W. Goodman is reported as able to be about the house, although far from well. His housekeeper still continues under the care of a trained nurse.

While the children who have been out with the measles are gradually returning to school, the Peabody Annex still has but half its usual attendance. The disease made a clean sweep in the sections of the Peabody and Peabody Annex and a few at the Witherbee, being first confined wholly to the children who attended the Sunday School at the Berkeley Chapel, where it was contracted from the students at St George's. In most of the cases the sickness was of a virulent form.

The continual teaming with lumber from Fall River is causing much damage to the cross roads in certain sections, especially near the bathing beach.

Mrs. Ermina Parnum of Worcester, Mass., was guest today of relatives in town.

PORTSMOUTH.

[Regular correspondence of The News.]

Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin C. Sherman were guests Wednesday of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Grinnell of Tiverton. Miss Annie May Grinnell, who has been quite sick, is improving but not well enough to be out.

The guild of St. Paul's Church held its weekly meeting with Mrs. Frederick C. Cooke. There was a large attendance and much charitable work was accomplished for the benefit of St. Mary's Orphanage and St. Andrew's home.

The Lenten service at St. Paul's Church Wednesday afernoon had the largest attendance of the series.

Persons going to Fall River by trolley represent the condition of the highway from the west side of the Stone Bridge, where the track is being taken up for repairs to the bridge, nearly to the end on the east side, as deplorable, the passage being much obstructed by debris and workmen.

Large quantities of fertilizer are being carted, sometimes a number of two-horse teams following closely one after the other. The mild weather makes the farmers eager to begin work.

Mrs. Berton W. Storrs and Miss Gertrude E. Macomber have gone on a visit to Boston.

Mr. James Morrissey has gone to Toronto, expecting to return the first week in April.

Those who attended the auction sale Tuesday at George B. Harrington's say it was a record-breaker. There was a large attendance and high prices were realized, 275 articles being sold in five hours. Isaac Chase was the auctioneer. Mr. Harrington has occupied the farm about 50 years.

PRESIDENT'S STAND APPROVED.

Attitude Toward Latin-American Affairs Favored by Diplomats.

WASHINGTON, March 12.—President Wilson's statement of the attitude of the present administration toward Latin-American affairs was received by the Central and South American diplomats here in the friendly spirit which was voiced in the declaration. The consensus of opinion among them was one of approval, that the policy of his administration would be to discountenance lawless revolutions and at the same time to encourage the growth of friendly relations.

President Wilson's statement received close study today at the hands of member sof the Senate and House. The majority of member sof the Senate and House committees on foreign affairs expressed general approval of the President's attitude. A prominent member of the Senate committee said he believed the statement had been issued to serve as a warning to those who have held the impression that the new administration might be lenient with revolutionists.

It is the understanding among the Senate Democrats close to President Wilson and Secretary Bryan that the administration will urge the extension of trade in the southern countries through peaceful means, but that if necessary another statement may be issued to indicate more clearly that American interests there will not be aided in any way if they take part in attempts to upset established government.

ONE OF TAFT'S LAST ACTS.

Expunges Reprimand from Military Record of Colonel Garrard.

WASHINGTON, March 12.—One of the last official acts of the Taft administration was the issue of an order by the President expunging from the military record of Colonel Joseph Garrard, Fifteenth cavalry, commander at Fort Myer, Va., the reprimand administered to him because of his unfavorable endorsement upon the examination papers of Frank Bloom, a young Jewish private, who was seeking a commission.

Colonel Garrard's endorsement in substance propounded Bloom undesirable because of his family conditions and religion, which endorsement President Taft severely condoned. The effect of this last action is to clear the way for Colonel Garrard's promotion to the rank of a general officer.

TESTS UNDER DIFFICULTY.

Dr. Friedmann Will Not Impart Methods of Making His Vaccine.

WASHINGTON, March 12.—Government tests of Dr. F. F. Friedmann's tuberculosis vaccine in the public health service hygienic laboratory here are proceeding under difficulties, because the Berlin physician has not imparted to the official investigators the methods of making his vaccine from the culture, nor has he divulged the dose, in spite of the fact that public health officials repeatedly have asked him to do so.

Surgeon General Blue announced today that his official mail has been increased fourfold with letters from all parts of the country from tuberculosis sufferers begging for an opportunity to offer themselves as subjects for tests. He reiterated today that under no circumstances would the public health service administer the vaccine to human beings at this time, if at all.

BILL INTRODUCED AT ALBANY.

New York Police Commissioner Would Appoint 20 Patrol Women.

ALBANY, N. Y., March 12.—Authority to appoint 20 patrol women, or as many more as he deems necessary, is given the police commissioner of New York in a bill introduced in the assembly today. The appointees would be between the ages of 35 and 45 years, would be uniformed and would be assigned to duty in dance halls, public parks and moving picture shows, or might be required to perform regular duty in protecting women and children.

SPONTANEOUS COMBUSTION.

Malden Young Men's Christian Association Building Damaged by Fire.

MALDEN, Mass., March 12.—The Young Men's Christian Association building was damaged to the extent of $40,000 today by fire and water. The flames were confined to the upper floors, but the assembly rooms and ground floor tenants were flooded. The fire is believed to have been caused by spontaneous combustion.

IN PIPE LINE CASES.

Injunctions Granted Restraining Orders of Interstate Commerce Board.

WASHINGTON, March 12.—The commerce court today granted preliminary injunctions restraining the orders of the Interstate Commerce Commission in what are known as the pipe line cases. The constitutionality of the interstate commerce law, as applied to all pipe liner, is in question.

DISTRESS QUICKLY RELIEVED AND THIS MOST PERSISTENT DISEASE CONQUERED.
Why should you suffer longer, when at every druggists of consequence in Newport and vicinity you can secure a physician's home treatment for Hemorrhoids or Piles that has been wonderfully successful in practice and that is recommended by physicians and pharmacists?
This effective process is known as ENGLISH HEMORRHOID TREATMENT and the instructions are so easy to follow that the disease can privately and quickly be overcome right in your own home.
The ENGLISH HEMORRHOID TREATMENT consists of three separate formulae, all put up in one package. In one box you will find suppositories; in another an ointment; and in still another a box of tablets to be taken internally. Extra boxes of each can be obtained at 50 cents.
Each of these formulae serves its purpose perfectly and the result is prompt relief, followed by complete disappearance of the distressing disease or your money back.
Bear in mind that the ENGLISH HEMORRHOID TREATMENT is a complete one; it has been used for years in the practice of many physicians with remarkable success and is now offered direct to sufferers by pharmacists who know its value.

Creole Baked Fish.

Any firm fleshed fish will answer. A middle or tail piece is best. After scraping and washing arrange on a flat pan, pour over and round it a cupful of thin tomato sauce which has been well seasoned with onions and green peppers. Bake until the flesh draws away from the bones, basting every 10 minutes with more of the sauce, which is kept hot at the side of the fire. Serve with the remainder of the sauce.

Almond Souffle.

One tablespoonful flour, one tablespoonful butter, half a cupful of milk, half teaspoonful almond extract, two tablespoonfuls sugar and four eggs. Melt the butter, stir in the flour, gradually add the milk and stir till boiling, cook five minutes, stirring all the time. Remove from the fire, add the sugar and flavoring, beat in the yolks of three eggs and add the stiffly beaten whites of four eggs. Pin a band of paper round the top of a baking dish or souffle dish, pour in the mixture, sprinkle over with blanched and shredded almonds. Bake in a hot oven for 15 minutes. Serve at once.

TESTING OLEOMARGARINE.

The Navy Experimenting as to Keeping Qualities.

The purchasing officers of the navy are engaged in an experiment to ascertain whether oleomargarine may be adopted as a part of the provisions of the service. It is not intended necessarily that this shall be a substitute for butter, but it is realized that it may be acceptable and would materially reduce the cost of one of the items of the ration. The tests have been undertaken at the navy yard at New York and the Naval Training Station here and at North Chicago. The principal thing to be ascertained is whether oleomargarine has the keeping qualities necessary.

In the meantime, the paymaster general has placed contracts for half a million pounds of tinned butter at about two cents a pound less than the prices last year. Conditions have improved in the matter of competition. Last year much difficulty was encountered on account of the laws relating to cold storage. It is intended to purchase about 100,000 pounds of this butter, bids for which will be opened next week at the bureau of supplies and accounts. It is proposed that this butter be purchased in the churning season and stored. In this way, it is believed, a material saving can be effected.

BREAKING A TITAN'S BACK.

[New York Tribune.]

It is not only England now but all Europe that is the Weary Titan. There can be no doubt that such additions as the German emperor now proposes will make the load which bows her Atlantean shoulders "well-nigh not to be borne." Income taxes are burdensome enough, but a heavy graduated tax upon capital, rising to a maximum of four per cent, should certainly cause the German people—and all other European peoples, since all will in some way have to follow the example—pretty literally to sit up and take notice of what the mad competition in military armaments means.

It may not, it is true, mean war. The tremendous arming of Europe 25 years ago did not result in war. Neither did the accession of the present German emperor, who called himself a war lord and was called by others a firebrand. Neither did his impassioned pictorial and verbal appeal to Europe to arm against the Yellow Peril. So the present military expansion may remain within bounds of peace. But how tremendous is the price of peace—or, rather, how heavy is the blackmail which the black hand of threatened war exacts!

Arnold portrayed his Weary Titan with deaf ears and labor-dimmed eyes. But there is reason to suspect that the ears of Europe are beginning to hear and that labor is opening and not dimming eyes. Certainly, if ever the nations are to realize the plight in which insensate military rivalry has placed them, and to seek in rational decrease of armaments relief from a burden sufficient not merely to bow but to break the most Titanic back, the Kaiser's latest demand upon them should mark the time for doing it.

LIPTON CHALLENGE DECLINED.

Objection to Condition Restricting the Race to 75-Footers.

Unanimous Action by Boat-Owning Members of the New York Yacht Club.

The New York Yacht Club at its special meeting held Wednesday evening declined the challenge of the Royal Ulster Yacht Club in behalf of Sir Thomas J. Lipton, Bart., for a series of races for the America's cup in 1914. Although the action was taken by unanimous vote of the yacht-owning members present it was popular gossip after the meeting that an unrestricted challenge for the cup from another prominent British yachtsman may be received soon.

The challenge received from the Royal Ulster Yacht Club follows:

"Royal Ulster Yacht Club, Bangor, County Down, Ireland, February 26, 1913.

"To the Secretary New York Yacht Club, New York.

"Dear Sir: I am requested by Sir Thomas J. Lipton, Bart., K. C. V. O., to forward you this challenge for the America's cup, subject to the same regulations as governed the last contest and which proved to be so satisfactory; namely, the best three out of five races over the same courses with like starts and other details.

"The first race to be sailed on Thursday, the 10th day of September, 1914.

"The second race to be sailed on Saturday, the 12th day of September, 1914.

"The third race to be sailed on Tuesday, the 15th day of September, 1914.

"Further races, if any, to be sailed on each following Thursday, Saturday and Tuesday until finished.

"I therefore, on behalf of the Royal Ulster Yacht Club and in the name of Sir Thomas J. Lipton, a member of the club, challenge to sail a series of matches with the yacht Shamrock IV, against any one yacht or vessel constructed in the United States of America for the America's cup.

"The following are the particulars of the challenging vessel:

"Owner, Sir Thomas J. Lipton, Bart., K. C. V. O.

"Name of yacht, Shamrock IV.

"Length on load water line, 75 feet.

"Rig, cutter.

"The custom house measurement will follow as soon as the vessel can be measured for registration.

"In forwarding this challenge I am desired by the committee to say that it is sent on condition that the cup will be defended by a yacht with a length on load water line not exceeding 75 feet.

"I shall be much obliged if you will cable the receipt of this challenge.

(Signed) "E. F. Patterson,
"Honorary Secretary,
"Royal Ulster Yacht Club."

The New York Yacht Club's official statement regarding the action taken follows:

"The New York Yacht Club has declined this challenge because it imposes as a condition that the defending vessel shall not exceed 75 feet length on the water line, and thereby deprives the defending club of the right given it by the deed of gift to select a vessel of such size as it pleases, provided it be not less than 65 nor more than 90 feet on the water line.

"The club has cabled its reply to the Royal Ulster Yacht Club.

"As it would be improper to make this reply public before it is received by the Royal Ulster Yacht Club, it cannot be given to the press until tomorrow evening.

"G. A. Cormack,
"Secretary, New York Yacht Club."

The committee appointed to draw up the reply included Messrs. Dallas B. Pratt, commodore; Lewis Cass Ledyard, E. D. Morgan, Cornelius Vanderbilt, Henry Walters, C. Ledyard Blair and J. P. Morgan, Jr., rear commodore.

There were 300 members present, Commodore Pratt presiding, and 60 yachts were represented in the voting on the challenge.

While the contents of the answer to the Royal Ulster Yacht Club, which was cabled to that organization, were not made public, it was rumored that it would be along lines similar to the answer sent by the New York Yacht Club in 1907, when Sir Thomas challenged through the Royal Irish Yacht Club and named a 68-footer.

Sir Thomas has the privilege of challenging for the cup without any restrictions, and it was considered probable that his possible open challenge would insure a race for the yachtsmen would issue a race for the coveted trophy in 1914.

The New York Yacht Club defined its attitude in rejecting the 1907 challenge, in its cablegram to the honorary secretary of the Royal Irish Yacht Club, a summary of which follows:

"After a full discussion, the following resolutions were offered by Commodore Lewis Cass Ledyard and seconded by J. Pierpont Morgan:

"Resolved, That the America's cup held by the club as trustees under the deed of gift, is a trophy which stands pre-eminently for speed and the utmost skill in designing, construction, managing and handling competing vessels, and should, therefore, be sailed for by the fastest and most powerful vessels that can be produced.

"That no agreement for any match for the cup should contain any provision which detracts from the merit of the trophy representing these objects.

"That no agreement should be made with any challenger which proposes any other limitation or restriction upon the designer than such as is necessarily implied in the limit of water-line length expressed in the deed.

"That the importance of the event makes it desirable that contesting vessels should be substantially of the greatest power and size permitted by the limitations of the deed of gift. Such vessels also furnish the most complete tests of skill in designing, constructing, managing and handling.

"For these reasons matches for the cup should not be held between vessels of comparatively insignificant power and size.

"The New York Yacht Club is prepared to accept a challenge in accordance with the terms of the deed of gift and to enter again into mutual agreements with any challenger similar to those which have governed matches for this cup for many years past.

"The challenge of the Royal Irish Yacht Club fails to conform with the provisions of the deed of gift under which alone this club can accept any challenge."

That Sir Thomas, after having been refused a challenge in 1907, when, through the Royal Irish Yacht Club, he sought for a race with 68-footers, should have challenged through another club, the Royal Ulster, and again included restrictions, occasioned some comment among members, according to gossip after the meeting.

ANIMALS' FUN.

[Christian Endeavor World.]

A thick fleeced lamb came trotting by.
"Pray, whither now, my lamb?" quoth I.
"To save," said he with never a stop,
"My wool clipped off at the Ba-Bs shop."

I asked the dog, "Why all this din?"
Said he, "I'm fashioned outside in.
And all my nights and days, I've tried
My best to get the bark outside."

A hen was cackling loud and long.
Said I to her, "How strange your song!"
Said she, "'Tis scarce a song, in fact,
It's just a lay, to be eggs-act."

I asked the cat, "Pray tell me why
You love to sing?" She blinked her eye.
"My pur-pass, sir, as you can see,
Is to a-mews myself," said she.

"Oh, may we hope?" the lovers say.

TALL STORY OF TALL CORN.

[Kansas City Journal.]

The big corn yield in Kansas this fall recalls the story of big Kansas corn at the Philadelphia centennial. Among the Kansas agricultural exhibits at the fair was some corn on the stalks, grown in the Neosho river bottoms. It was 20 feet high and the ears looked as long as stove wood. An old lady from Vermont gazed at it and declared that the stalks were spliced. Then she took another look and changed her mind. "But," said she, "it didn't grow that big in one year. It must have grown for two seasons."

The man in charge of the Kansas exhibit was somewhat of a prevaricator himself. "Lady," said he in great solemnity, "we are almost ashamed to exhibit this corn. This has been a hot dry year in Kansas, and we have not been able to raise very large corn. But we felt that it wouldn't do to have a Kansas exhibit without corn, so we brought this little stuff along. In a really good year the corn grows so high in Kansas that eagles build their nests in the tassels, knowing full well that they are out of range of the farmers' guns."

THE NEWS IN PROVIDENCE.

The Daily News is on sale in Providence the evening of publication of Union Station.

LEGISLATIVE INACTIVITY REBUKED.

Representative Atwood of Providence, one of the few Progressives in the General Assembly, ought to be popular with his constituents if they have any appreciation of the duties of legislators and of the dilatory disposition which these men are showing in the transaction of the business of the state, which is the business of the people. He alone of all the members of that body thus far has had the courage or willingness to rebuke the legislature for neglecting the work of the session and idling away the time. He made this denunciation in connection with the "gentlemen's agreement" for the transaction of no business of a partisan or political nature last week, when a number of the members were in Washington for the inauguration proceedings. He might have made it in connection with the ordinary work of almost any day during the session thus far, for there have been few on which the legislature has attended strictly to business, without political considerations, and with full regard for the duties which the members were elected to perform.

To people outside it has been a matter of considerable concern that the Assembly is conducting business in the manner followed at this session. There have been few recent years when so little has been done up to the present stage, and few in which partisan strife has figured so prominently and delayed action on important measures to such an extent. Complaint of this sort is heard and is warranted practically every year, but the conditions have been worse at this session than usual and as yet little has really been accomplished.

At last one member of the body itself has had the courage to call the legislature to task for this course, but it is doubtful if it will have any effect, as he stands so nearly alone politically that he has but little influence. His rebuke, however, raised a sympathetic feeling among many outside and has been warmly commended.

HOUSEKEEPING AS A BUSINESS.

Without doubt if more women would be willing to consider housekeeping as a profession and conduct the home and its affairs on the same business lines as any other enterprise, a great deal of what is now wasted could be used to good advantage and the present high price of foodstuffs could be met much more easily. The profession of housekeeping, as many women are finding, is not the easiest thing in the world to learn. It takes time and patience to secure results, but so does any successful business venture. Of course, as in every other sphere, different methods must be used in almost all cases. All homes do not require the same sort of management, and it is for the housewife to study the individual demands just as she would in any business outside the home, and to bring her best judgment and an abundance of common sense to bear upon the problems constantly arising, until she finds a satisfactory solution. This will not be so difficult as it would seem at first glance, if she is thoroughly in earnest in placing her home on a business basis and learning how to make it profitable through economical management.

Economy is one of the first principles in the successful conduct of the home along such lines, and by those who have taken up housekeeping as a profession the standard is being placed where it should be, at the head of all kinds of business in which women are interested. This study of economy not only means a knowledge of the prices of various foods but of the quality as well, and also the most economical way to prepare them in order to secure the greatest amount of nourishment.

The study of household economics is gaining new converts all the time. It involves all sorts of questions pertaining to all parts of the house, and while many of them are of course not so easily answered as others, still to the woman who really wishes to learn and is willing to give careful study to the subject the results are usually satisfactory. They well repay the time and thought spent, by the increased knowledge gained of the different methods which may be used to good effect in the care of the home. When more women take up the study of household economics and practise its principles, looking upon the home as their business field, there will be fewer complaints of the high price of living and the difficulty of trying to make the salary of the ordinary working man meet the expenses of the family. Such a change will also mean happier and more healthful places in which to live than many of the homes of today, which are left to the management or domestics who have no knowledge of economy when it relates to their employers.

The business of the home is of so much importance to the well-being of all connected with it, and also in its relation to the outside world, that it would seem as if it must be the first thought of the woman of the house to place its management upon a firm business basis, and so prevent what is now too frequently the cause of bankrupt homes, a hap-hazard way of conducting its affairs without thought of what the consequences may be. The woman who places her home on such a basis and looks upon its care as a profession to which she is called will keep her family well and happy, and to her the country at large will owe a debt of gratitude. A little common sense and a few simple business rules will go a long way toward the successful management of the ordinary household.

THE REMNANT OF CLEVELAND DEMOCRATS.

Though for 16 years William Jennings Bryan has been denouncing the Cleveland or gold Democrats as traitors to the party, not worthy to be called by its name, he is obliged to associate rather intimately with some of them now. President Wilson is sticking fairly well to his announcement some weeks ago that he should take counsel only with men in sympathy with progressive ideas, but he is not proscribing the remnant of the "safe and sane" end of the party.

Nine years ago Bryan fought Judge Parker before the convention, during the convention and until after the convention, because he was a gold-standard Democrat. Last year he was fighting Governor Harmon of Ohio on the same ground; Harmon had on him the taint of service in the Cleveland cabinet. Yet one of Bryan's cabinet colleagues, the Attorney General, has the effrontery to boast in a biographical sketch which must have come from himself that he was one of the gold Democrats of 1896.

Furthermore, the Secretary of the Treasury is from Wall street. That must be gall and wormwood to the man who has been stumping the country for 16 years on the issue that Wall street was a sink of iniquity and was fleecing the country right and left. Secretary Redfield was not in politics during the last Cleveland administration, but as a business man he was an active supporter, if we are not very much mistaken, of the financial policy for which Bryan can find no language bitter enough for the denunciation of Cleveland.

It is not at all certain that President Wilson has not "knocked Bryan into a cocked hat," according to the Joline letter; that is, it is quite possible that he has put him where he is less dangerous than he would be anywhere else, or at large. It looks as if he had been "kicked up stairs." His aversion to war is a good asset for him in the State Department, and he is where he can have much less influence on financial legislation than if he were out of office and free to go to Congress and air his views among his devotees.

The movement for a general ticket to oppose Tammany in the municipal election in New York next autumn has taken definite form, a call having been issued for a meeting to appoint a committee of 70 to name candidates. The signers include Republicans, Progressives and Independent Democrats, and it is specially stated that the movement is to be non-partisan, with the understanding of course that it is strictly anti-Tammany. The list of signers includes Job E. Hedges, who was the Republican candidate for governor of New York last November; Oscar S. Strauss, the Progressive candidate; Joseph H. Choate, Seth Low, Frederic Coudert and others, who seem to guarantee the non-partisan character and prominence of the movement.

Women police are becoming quite popular. A bill has been introduced in the legislature, authorizing the police commissioner of New York city to appoint 20 patrol women, or as many more as he deems necessary, to be uniformed and assigned to dance halls, public parks and moving picture shows, or to perform regular duties in protecting women and children, and to draw the same pay as men. In Chicago Mayor Harrison has said he thought the experiment of women police worth trying, and in Boston Mayor Fitzgerald is seriously considering appointing women as constables. We may all have them soon.

A suggestion has been made to the New York Board of Trade that the names of the five boroughs be changed, the borough of Manhattan to be New York West; the Bronx, New York North; Brooklyn, New York Central or New York Southeast; Queens, New York East, and Richmond, New York South. With the possibility of endless confusion over so many different New Yorks the suggestion is not likely to meet much favor.

If Lipton is surprised at the rejection of his latest challenge for the America's cup, few on this side of the ocean share his feeling. It was a foregone conclusion after the announcement of the terms on which the offer was based. If Sir Thomas really desires another race, let him name conditions which are likely to be acceptable.

When even the officials of the Grand Trunk confess their inability to raise a loan for the completion of the road, it is certainly wise for the state to withhold its guarantee of the bonds.

Newport's new board of trade is taking a lively interest in civic affairs and promises to become an organization of great value to the city.

Turn about is fair play. Now mobs are breaking up meetings of the British suffragettes. Why not?

Motor-driven or horse-drawn, that is the question.

TO PROLONG LIFE.

Lactic Acid or Sour Milk a "Cure" for Old Age in Man.

[Chicago Inter-Ocean.]

Within the last three centuries the average length of life has risen in civilized countries from under 30 to over 41. Roughly speaking, everybody lives nowadays half as long again as if they had existed some centuries ago. Why, a great many scientists are asking, should this process not be hurried on? The great improvement during the last few centuries has been due to the bettering of sanitary conditions and to the advance of medical science generally. But many investigators are trying to find something more speedy. The great authority on this subject is the famous Professor Metchnikoff, who declares that there is no reason why the average length of life should not be nearer 200 years than one.

His theory—and it is generally accepted—is that the general decay which is called old age is due to the gradual collection of microbes on the large intestine. They collect on this tube owing to the putrefying of particles of food, and spread their poison gradually till they cause general decay. Experiments have shown that vegetables rich in sugar, such as dates, beet root, carrots, etc., produce none of these poisonous microbes. His idea, therefore, is to form a sugar-producing centre in the important tube. But, as sugar consumed in the ordinary way all gets absorbed before reaching the spot, he has decided to form it by means of a microbe.

If this microbe can be firmly established in the human body the problem of adding a century or so to the average life is solved. Lecturing before a learned body in Paris a short time ago, he announced that, after experimenting on human beings with this microbe, which he had obtained from the intestines of a dog, he had found that the poisons which in time bring on old age had ceased to form.

Another "cure" for old age can be bought over a chemist's counter, disguised in the pleasant form of chocolates. It is based on the same great scientist's discovery that lactic acid, such as is produced by sour milk, prevents the poisonous microbes from collecting. It has been noticed that those races which live largely on sour milk are very long lived. There are reasons for believing that some of the Arabs of the Sahara, who live chiefly on sour camels' milk, reach the age of 200 and upward. And the inhabitants of Bulgaria, where centenarians are nearly as common as six-foot men, live largely on a preparation of sour milk, known as "yahourth."

It is the bacillus of "yahourth" that M. Massol, the French scientist, has incorporated in the sweets known as "massolettes." What is known as lactic cheese is also on sale in England with the same purpose. In the early part of the Bible sour milk is often mentioned in connection with the patriarchs, who lived for hundreds of years.

TASTE AMONG ANIMALS.

[Tit-Bits.]

Many experiments have been made in order to find out what and where the organ of taste is in the lower creation, but it is easier to say where it is not. Crayfish and worms seem to have decided preferences in the matter of food, though no special taste organ has yet been found. Lobsters like decaying food. The crab is more dainty in its diet.

Snails and slugs show a decided preference for certain kinds of food, as garden lovers know to their cost. Peas and cabbages, dahlias and sunflowers are great favorites; but they will not touch the white mustard. Some prefer animal food, especially if rather high. Spiders have only a slight sense of taste; flies soaked in paraffin seem quite palatable to them; though one species, the diadema, is somewhat more particular and refuses to touch alcohol in any form.

The proboscis of the fly and the tongues of bees and ants are furnished with numerous delicate hairs set in minute pits. These are perhaps connected with the organ of taste; but, though the exact locality of this sense in insects is uncertain, we know that groups of cells in the tongues of animals, called taste bulbs, form in part the ends of the organ of the higher animals. They are very close and exceedingly numerous in man, while the tongue of even the cow has some 35,000 taste bulbs.

It would be interesting to know whether each special taste excites a special group of nerves, and that only—thus corresponding to the auditory nerves. These taste bulbs were discovered in 1867. Each one consists of two kinds of cells—one set forming an outer protective covering, through an opening in which project from five to ten of the true taste cells. Though important, they are not apparently an essential part of the organ, for birds and reptiles have none; but neither have they a keen sense of taste—except, perhaps, the parrot.

AROUND RHODE ISLAND.

Grand Trunk Vice President Unable to Find Capital to Finance the Road.

Citizens' Ticket, Headed by Colonel Bailey, Wins in Bristol—Warren Republicans Successful.

M. M. Reynolds, vice president, in charge of finances and accounting of the Grand Trunk Railway, declares emphatically in a statement that he has made every conceivable effort by personal endeavors with the largest and best banking houses in the United States to secure some arrangement for borrowing $6,000,000, the sum required for the completion of the Providence extension of the Grand Trunk railway, known as the Southern New England. Mr. Reynolds states that every effort has been useless and that under no circumstances can the Grand Trunk secure the money without the guarantee of the state of Rhode Island. He says, further, that the statements made in Providence by bankers and others to the effect that any possibility exists for raising the money in any other way are absolutely without foundation. He asserts that every effort made by him to secure from these individuals some definite explanation of what they mean by saying that there is a possibility of the Grand Trunk Railway procuring funds for this purpose has been met with absolute silence.

The Citizens' ticket, headed by John H. Bailey, Jr., made a clean sweep at the annual town election in Bristol Wednesday. Colonel Bailey was elected second councilman by a plurality of 199 over his nearest competitor, receiving 735 votes to 536 for Edward E. Wilkinson, the nominee on the Democratic and Progressive tickets. The election was one of the most hotly contested in the town for a number of years, and Colonel Bailey, as was the case a year ago, was the storm centre of the fight. With him he carried into office all three nominees for the school committee. The contest was rendered all the more bitter by the fact that the Republican and Democratic tickets were combined in the field, the former party having taken possession of the Democratic caucus a few weeks ago. The result of the election is regarded as significant by the Bailey forces, because of the fact that the town has been for several years the scene of a controversy in which Colonel Bailey has been the central figure. He was formerly a teacher in one of the public schools but was ousted by the school committee last year after a bitter fight, hinging on the question whether or not a public school teacher should engage in political activities. He was later re-instated, but was again dropped, and since that time has been teaching school at Berkeley. His victory is regarded by many as an indication that he will return to the Bristol school, as all three members of the school committee who were elected were on the Citizens' ticket.

After a bitter fight, the result of which was in doubt until the last ballot was counted, the Republican ticket won a decisive victory at the annual election in Warren Wednesday. The contest centred about the candidacy of Max W. Saugy, on the Republican and Citizens' tickets, for the office of first councilman. The total vote stood as follows: Saugy, (R.), (C.), 310; Herbert A. Nichols, (D.), 220; Walter S. Bosworth, (C.), 274. By virtue of his election as first councilman Mr. Saugy is practically certain to be chosen chairman of the town council at its organization meeting. He was last year defeated at the polls by Mr. Bosworth by a margin of 12 votes. Practically the only other contest of interest at the election came in the choice of a moderator, Frederick S. Cole being elected over John McPike by the vote of 437 to 364.

A bill, the provisions of which are intended to promote the growth of timber and the practice of forestry in this state, introduced in the Senate Wednesday by Senator Wilbor of Little Compton, in substance provides for the tax on the forest land, exclusive of the trees, plus a tax on the stumpage value of the timber when the trees are cut. The chief benefit of the proposed law is claimed to be that it will relieve the timber of an excessive burden of taxation in that, under the general property tax, the taxation of both wood and timber for the long term of years required to grow timber, and the compound interest on those taxes, practically sweep away all the profits in timber growing.

Dr. John C. Parker, a well known physician of Providence, died Wednesday night of pneumonia. He was born in Lebanon, Maine, 48 years ago; was a graduate of Bowdoin College, class of 1886, and was graduated from the Maine Medical School, which is connected with Bowdoin, in 1891. For a time he practiced in New Hampshire, but moved to Providence about 15 years ago. In February, 1907, he was president of the Bowdoin College Alumni Association of Providence, and as such presided at the meeting at which Rear Admiral Robert E. Perry was the chief guest. In 1909 he was appointed surgeon and major of the United Train of Artillery and the following year of the First squadron of cavalry, Rhode Island National Guard, and held that rank at the time of his death. He was also a member of the school committee from the Fourth ward, his term expiring in 1912. He was a member of the Masonic fraternity, joining the Blue Lodge in New Hampshire, and taking the higher degrees in Providence. He was a member of St. John's Commandery, Knights Templar, and a 32nd degree Scottish Rite Mason. Since being appointed to the First squadron of cavalry, Dr. Parker had taken a great interest in the work of the command and had participated in all the practice marches it had taken. Last year he was with the squadron officers when they went to Fort Ethan Allen, Vt., and was planning to go there again this year.

AND WEEKLY NEWS.

GEORGE H. EDDS DEAD.

Left Here Wednesday for Fall River and Expired at Midnight.

News was received here this morning of the sudden death, at St. Ann's Hospital, Fall River, shortly after midnight, of Mr. George H. Edds of this city. He went to Fall River Wednesday to visit friends, leaving here at 1 o'clock on the trolley, in the best of spirits and apparently in the best of health. He was having tea when suddenly he fell from his chair, stricken with apoplexy. He was hurried to St. Ann's Hospital and lingered only a few hours.

Mr. Edds had been a resident of Newport many years and was well known, especially along Broadway, where he made frequent stops during his walks to and from his home on Bay View avenue, and where he always had a pleasant word for everybody. He had shown no signs of approaching illness and only a few days ago returned from a visit at Sheepshead bay, N. Y.

The deceased was formerly a commissary in the navy but retired several years ago, making his home in Newport. He is survived by a son and a daughter, the son being married and residing in Philadelphia, where he is in the employ of the Philadelphia Traction Company.

Mr. Edds was a member of Colonel John Hare Powel Comp, Sons of Veterans, and at one time an officer of that organization. He was also a member of the Newport Yacht Club.

KOEHLER FURNISHES BAIL.

A bondsman arrived from Pawtucket Wednesday afternoon and secured the release of William E. Koehler of East Providence, who has been at the jail since Saturday, charged with taking oysters from the private beds of the American Oyster Company off Hog island, Mr. Thomas F. Black, who came from Pawtucket to go bail, which was $200 on one count and $100 on the other, was unknown to any one in Newport except Koehler, and the clerk of the court deemed it necessary first to communicate with the city clerk of Pawtucket as to Black's qualifications. They were found satisfactory and Koehler was released.

Archer attended the automobile show in Boston Wednesday.

THE BROOK AND THE POND.

After the Dam Was Built the Land Was Badly Flooded.

Testimony in the Little Compton Case of Boddington vs. Wilbur, in Superior Court.

Judge Barrows presided in the superior court this morning and the case of Boddington vs. Wilbur was heard. Mr. Burdick was present for plaintiff and Mr. Prescott for defendant.

Mr. Prescott cross-examined Mr. Boddington, and to the listener it was all about as clear as mud. The court was obliged to ask for more light. Witness's answers were clear enough.

He said the water does not now find its way into his brook from Wilbur's pond. December 18, 1912, the biggest part of it went into Wilbur's pond. It was admitted that there is no outlet from Wilbur's pond into Boddington's brook.

Douglas B. Boddington, son of plaintiff, testified. He said after the law suit Wilbur dammed the entrance to his pond. This dam was constructed of earth and boards. There was a ditch around the pond and part of the water went into the ditch and part of it into the pond.

At this point witness swooned, but was quickly revived and resumed his evidence, sitting.

He saw the water of the brook going into the Wilbur pond; some went under the dam, some over it. There were two large holes under the dam. The water had leaned the boards over towards the pond.

Edward W. Pierce, town sergeant of Little Compton, testified. He has been well acquainted with the brook for 35 years. After the court's order was served on Mr. Wilbur, he took the planks out of the dam on the south side. The court's order was that Wilbur be restrained from diverting or obstructing the natural flow of the brook from north to south, and directing Wilbur to reduce the height of the dam at the south side of the pond, in so far as it interfered with the natural flow.

Mr. Prescott explained that Wilbur has diverted the course of the brook on his own land, bringing it back to the old course where it enters plaintiff's land; and since doing this has replaced the dam in the south side of the Wilbor pond, claiming that the pond is now supplied by sources other than the brook.

Witness resumed. Most of the water from the brook was going into the pond December 18, under the dam and over the dam (the boards being lent over), and over the embankment on the north side of the pond. The water was coming from Boddington's north pasture, two acres of which were flooded. Very little of the water was flowing in the ditch around Wilbur's pond. Witness went to the place on request of Mr. Boddington. There had been but a little rain at that time. It was a very dry fall. The land there is very flat. There was formerly but a small pond on the Wilbur land; he does not remember the north pasture of Boddington being flooded, usually, before Wilbur made his dam. Last February the water about the dam was nearly all level.

Abel W. Simmons, 60 years of age, testified. Knows the locus for many years. Before Wilbur's ice pond was constructed.

Mr. Prescott objected that witness had previously testified. The court desired to know what he had testified. Mr. Prescott could not remember; said he was trying to save time. Mr. Burdick thought he could save time by allowing the question to be answered.

Witness said there never was any such flooding there as this winter, after Wilbur's dam was made. All was flooded and water was forcing itself into Wilbur's pond. February 18 the ditch around the pond "didn't seem to have much business"; there was little water in it. Witness went with Pierce and Boddington. December 18 Saw from an acre and a half to two acres flooded. He never saw the land flooded until this dam was put up December 18 the water was boiling up into the pond in at least three places near the dam. There were holes through the dam and the water was going through them.

George J. Wordell, who worked on the dam, told of its construction; also testified as to the ditch.

Nathaniel Church, 67 years old, testified. Has known the neighborhood for 57 years. The brook was larger in former years; his father owned the land. There was a very shallow pond where the Wilbur pond now is. Some months ago he saw the rocky (Boddington) pasture all flooded; never saw so much water there before. He had skated over the brook in former years.

To Mr. Prescott he said he did not skate on the bushes between the ponds; skated on the ponds and brook.

Mr. Wilbor admitted service of the final decree (injunction on him.

John C. G. Brown, "only 84", testified. He first lived in Little Compton in 1842. He never was on the land of Wilbor and Boddington, north of the highway. It would be flooded in heavy rains, for about an acre. The Boddington land could not be seen, very well, from the highway. In heavy rains, in former years, the water would force through the wall, to the ditch, beside the road, filling it to the level of the road. In 60 years witness had seen it "a number of times". It would be when there were two or three days of terrible rains.

At 12:37 Mr. Prescott said he had breakfast very early, and there being no objections a recess to 2:15 was ordered.

MAKES MUSIC, NOT NOISE.

Claim That Municipal Band Should Share in Summer Concerts.

To the Editor of the Daily News:

Dear Sir: Having read the statement made by a member of the Park Commission that Newport musicians were capable of making only noise, not music, I took occasion to attend the rehearsal of the Municipal Band last evening, in order to be able to verify or controvert the above statement, whichever condition I found to exist.

I arrived a little late and as a matter of curiosity I counted up the number of musicians rehearsing and found that there were just 30 instrumentalists seated, at the stands, forming a perfect combination and balance. Among those present were many of our recognized leading musicians, well known in the professional world, and other semi-professional instrumentalists, members of the different theatre and dance orchestras, all capable musicians.

The claim that such musical talent is capable only of making horrible noises was thoroughly disproved by the class of music played and the manner in which it was rendered, although it was all sight reading. The tone was round and full and the shading left little to be desired. One noticeable feature was that the instruments were in tune with each other and it was evident that the conductor was very particular in this respect.

Should the Park Commission refuse to give this organization recognition and debar it from participating in the summer concerts, it could not be considered other than a matter of prejudice and favoritism.

ARMY AND NAVY CIRCUS.

Sailors and Soldiers Planning Novel Stunts for Affair.

The enlisted men at the Army and Navy Young Men's Christian Association propose to hold a circus and entertainment in the gymnasium on the evenings of April 8 and 9. The Mary Street Association held a similar affair a year ago and the sailors and soldiers think that by combining their efforts they can arrange a circus which will be equally successful. The acts will include pyramid building, tumbling and various forms of acrobatic work and gymnastics. Musician Ladiuer of Fort Adams will have charge of the gymnastics and the tumbling.

The side show is planned as a strong feature and some novel stunts are being arranged. Private Thorne will have the direction of the clowns. In charge of the side show will be Chief Gunner's Mate Nye, chairman; Electrician Carig, Seaman Harris and Seaman Geiser. Sergeant Bely and Sergeant Wilkie will manage some of the main features and Physical Director J. R. Conahay will have general oversight of the show.

BOARD WALK LOCATED.

Aldermen Move Line a Little South, Contractors Hustling.

The Board of Aldermen, or part thereof, visited the beach Wednesday afternoon and located the site of the board walk. It was found that it would be better to bring the east end somewhat nearer the water, to give a full view of the buildings, and that this could be done without disadvantage to the contractor, so the line was moved a trifle to the south. Contractor Gildea was already at work, putting up his shed. Contractor Beeson has already started on the convention hall and was making satisfactory progress. The two contractors on the Association buildings are also just hustling things along and the beach shows that work can be done if only people are willing to hustle.

The Board of Aldermen is scheduled to hold an important meeting this evening, though whether what is left of the board will do much is a question. The mayor is off and Alderman Hughes is reported as laid up with the grip, and thus two fifths of the members will be absent. This was, however, the situation last Monday, when the mayor and Alderman Kirby were both absent, the latter because no call had been made for the meeting.

WOMEN'S NEW SPRING SUITS

Have Arrived in Great Numbers.

Easter comes very early, you know—someone with a penchant for knowing things figured it out that not for another hundred years will Easter appear as early as this year. The reason for such splendid advance Spring readiness at the present time in our Suit section!

The new features are the shorter coats, the longer waist, the plaited skirts, the touch of Bulgarian colorings and the new materials. They're fashioned of Bayadere Cloths, Ottoman, Cords, Russian Cords, Bedford Cords, Ratines, Serges and Mixtures.

EARLY ARRIVALS IN 1913 WAISTS.

Distinguished new models are shown with flat collars, Dutch necks and high necks. You will see scores of dainty new ideas entirely different from anything shown in the past season. This is a collection of waists that is refreshing, to say the least. The trimmings excel anything ever shown before. New embroidery and lace effects, beautiful colored effects in Bulgarian embroideries and colored voile trimming.

NEW SPRING HATS.

How different they are—and so "cutish," just admirable for service during these advance Spring days. Small they are, to conform with Fashion's dictum—but you'll see several "Tam-crown" models. Of Milans, Chips, Leghorns and Horse-Hair braids—some of them veiled with daintily colored Maline.

JOINT CONFERENCE ADJOURNS.

Illinois Republicans to Vote for the Nominee of Progressive Caucus.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., March 13.—With 71 of the 76 Republican members of the assembly present and without a dissenting vote, Republican senators and representatives in a joint conference, which adjourned early today, adopted a resolution pledging themselves to vote for the nominee of the Progressive caucus, Frank H. Funk for United States Senator, for the term ending March 4, 1915, provided a number of Progressive members of the general assembly sufficient to elect in each case will unite upon and vote for the primary nominee of the Republican party, Lawrence Y. Sherman, for the term ending March 4, 1913.

While the Republican joint conference was in progress the Progressives held a conference. Six Progressives are reported to have declined to participate in any bi-partisan combination for the election of a Senator. It is claimed that 19 of the 27 Progressives have agreed to vote for Sherman and Funk.

JOHNSON'S CIRCULAR LETTER.

Proposes to Have Ball Players Give up Their Connection With the Press.

CHICAGO, March 13.—President B. B. Johnson of the American League last night made public the circular letter which he has addressed to all the club owners in the organization regarding the practice of ball players contributing stories to newspapers. It is the purpose of Mr. Johnson to have the players give up their connection with newspapers. In part the letter reads:

"The growth of base ball in the last few years and the growing interest created has brought to the sporting departments of the newspapers some of the best talent in the field it is to the advantage of every interest that this class of reporters continue in this field of labor.

"This end cannot be attained if their work is not remunerative. The players' action in encroaching upon the work of these writers is exceedingly harmful and a blight upon the reportorial branch of the sport.

"The articles that appear with players' names attached are seldom of their own creation and therefore an imposition on the public. Opposition to this fake journalism has already taken concrete form and unless some positive action is taken by the club owners they will be petitioned for relief."

President Johnson said he hoped that similar action would be taken in the National League.

POLICE BUSINESS.

This morning's police report was all in the anti-prohibition line. One man, surrendered from probation, was sent to the workhouse for six months on a charge of being a common drunkard; another was fined $5 and costs for drunkenness, and not having the money went to jail; still another pleaded not guilty to a charge of being drunk, and being unable to furnish bail also went to jail.

The police have found the owners of the pipe cutter which they recovered Wednesday. Lincoln & Tilley were the owners and it was taken from a place where they were working, but they did not know it was stolen until they saw the report in the News Wednesday afternoon.

FILIPINO INDEPENDENCE.

Secretary Redfield Out of Harmony With His Chief n Opposing Freedom.

Disagrees With Bryan—Women Will Exert Power in Politics—Cullom Continues at Work.

[Washington correspondence of The News.]

WASHINGTON, March 12.—At least one member of President Wilson's cabinet is not in harmony with his chief or with Secretary of State Bryan in respect to the Philippines. Secretary Redfield has been in the islands and after a thorough investigation came to the conclusion that no time should be fixed for granting them independence or passing a law in favor of that course. He may be able to convince the cabinet that he knows best when he discusses the subject, although Mr. Bryan is a hard man to convince when he has once made up his mind on any subject. Mr. Redfield only a short time ago made a vigorous speech against the proposed Democratic policy as represented by the Jones bill granting the Filipinos independence in eight years.

Every man in Congress who in any way discouraged the woman suffrage parade or made remarks about it which can be used against him among the women is to be marked in the next Congressional election. The women have declared war on them and assert that they will empty a number of seats two years hence. The women are quite a power in politics, and if they make a personal canvass in those Congressional districts they are likely to do considerable damage.

Publicity was what the women were seeking, and they certainly had it. The "hike" to Washington and the parade which was almost wrecked, gave them more advertising than they could have paid for with the United States treasury at their disposal. The women will now make an effort to obtain a constitutional amendment for women suffrage, but that will not be passed until many more states have been added to the suffrage list.

The venerable Shelby M. Cullom, whose 30 years of Senatorial service ceased March 4, has been made an officer of the Lincoln memorial association and will receive a salary of $5,000 a year. This will continue as long as he lives. Everybody is glad that this action was taken. After nearly 50 years of public service Senator Cullom is still a poor man, having never made any money while in office. "I never know how to make money," said he one day, "and I barely scrape along on my salary. I don't know what I will do when that stops unless," he added sadly, "I stop first."

As Bob Henry of Texas did not reach a cabinet place and continues a member of the House he can go right along with his program for changing the constitution of the United States so as to make the inauguration day the last part or April instead of the fourth of March. Of course he will only have more difficulty now, as the last inauguration day was all that could be wished from a weather point of view.

On the last day of the session there was considerably said about "log rolling" legislation. Senator Williams of Mississippi explained that it originated in the early days when the pioneers helped each other to build their log houses. "It is very pernicious," he added.

Senator Owen of Oklahoma was even more emphatic, and after denouncing legislation for states and districts as opposed to the general welfare such as appeared in the river and harbor bill and the public building bill he said. "The time has come to end it, and I say here in the Senate that there never will be passed through this body again a pork barrel bill for rivers and harbors or for public buildings." Senator Owen may really believe that, but these bills are so "scientifically constructed"—that is, they take care of so many localities—that it is impossible to defeat them.

Senator Bristow of Kansas has pointed out that 29 states have ratified the amendment to the constitution for direct election of Senators by the people. The amendment has passed one or another house in seven other states. These would give the necessary three fourths of the states to ratify the amendment. It is expected that they or other states will pass the ratifying resolutions so that the next Senatorial elections will be by the people instead of the legislatures. If this is done Maryland and Kentucky, holding Senatorial elections next fall, will be the first to act under the new plan.

FREIGHT RATES QUESTIONED.

Complaints of Quarry Interests in Indiana and Vermont Heard.

CHICAGO, March 13.—Hearing of complaints of building stone quarry interests in Indiana and Vermont were taken up here yesterday before the Interstate Commerce Commission. Interest at Bedford, Ind., and Barre, Vt., were represented by counsel, who asked for reduction in railroad rates. Six Boston lawyers representing New England railroads appeared to fight changes in rates. The Vermont interests complain of rates to Chicago, while the Indiana producers make similar charges regarding tariffs to Philadelphia and other eastern points. Counsel for the railroad declared that the fight was a competitive one between the two companies, each claiming that the other was being favored.

SARAH BERNHARDT BETTER.

Recovering from Injury Sustained in Automobile Accident.

LOS ANGELES, March 13.—The condition of Sarah Bernhardt, who was painfully injured in an automobile accident last night, showed marked improvement early today and her physicians said she would be able to take part in a benefit performance this evening. Both of her ankles were badly wrenched and she had difficulty in walking.

FAILS IN NEBRASKA.

House Defeats Proposed Amendment Permitting Women to Vote.

LINCOLN, Neb., March 13.—By the close vote of 45 in favor of to 50 against, the Nebraska house yesterday defeated the proposed constitutional amendment permitting women to vote. Sixty votes or two-thirds of the house membership were required to pass the bill.

DIAZ WILL NOT RETURN.

Only in Case of American Intervention Would He Come to Mexico.

NAPLES, March 13.—General Porfirio Diaz declared today that he would not return to Mexico. He was looking well on his arrival from Egypt on board steamer Adriatic and said his only desire was to be allowed to rest quietly. He stated, however, that all his efforts would be directed toward assisting his country to prosperity.

The former president added, however, that he would go back to Mexico in case of intervention in that country by the United States. Former President Taft, he said, had given him full assurances that the United States was not planning anything of the kind, but he continued: "Nobody can tell what politics keep in reserve or what the new American administration may project. "What is certain," concluded General Diaz, "is that the whole of Mexico would stand like one man if threatened from abroad."

General Diaz intends to remain here two days.

MORGAN IN GOOD HEALTH.

New York Banker Arrives at Naples from Egypt and Goes to Rome.

NAPLES, March 13.—J. Pierpont Morgan arrived here today on board steamer Adriatic from Alexandria, Egypt. From this city he proceeded to Rome. He appeared to be in a satisfactory condition of health. Dr. Bastianelli, who was a member of the Morgan party, said Mr. Morgan will soon have recovered his usual good health and vigor.

AS TO SOUTH AMERICAN TRIP.

Boston Chamber of Commerce to Confer With Foreign Ministers.

WASHINGTON, March 13.—A subcommittee of the Boston Chamber of Commerce will confer today with the ambassador from Brazil and the ministers from Panama, Argentina and Uruguay concerning the forthcoming tour of New England business men through South America. The sub-committee yesterday conferred with the ministers from Bolivia, Chile and Peru. The visitors have been assured that the South American countries were making extensive preparations to receive and welcome their party. The diplomats also told their callers that they expected great commercial good would result from the trip.

...GERM WHICH ...RODUCES DANDRUFF
...nally Causes Baldness.--Kil... the Germ and Save Your Hair.--Newbro's Herpicide Will Do It

Did you ever try to discover a reason for the dying of a valuable plant? Yo... erhaps found that life was destroyed by some insect or parasite working about the roots and sapping away the elements which go to support plant life.

The dandruff germ exercises the same destructive influence upon the life of the hair. It forces its way down the follicle around the hair bulb and thus prevents the hair from getting proper nourishment. The hair dies and drops out.

Newbro's Herpicide prevents this by killing the germ. It also frees the scalp from the accumulations of dirt and scarf skin. With the removal of these obstacles to a clean, healthy scalp the hair will grow naturally and luxuriantly.

Herpicide is known as the Original Dandruff Germ Destroyer.

One dollar size bottles are sold and guaranteed by all druggists.

Applications may be obtained at the better barber shops and hair dressing parlors.

Send 10c in postage or silver to The Herpicide Co., Dept. R., Detroit, Mich., for a nice sample of Herpicide and a booklet telling all about the hair.

PIMPLES CAME IN BLOTCHES
On Hand, Scratched So They Bled, Spread to Other Hand and Face. Ashamed to Go Out. Cured By Cuticura Soap and Ointment.

316 57th St., Brooklyn, N. Y.—"About a year ago I noticed a pimple on the back of my hand. I picked it, and the next day my hand became full of pimples. They came in blotches, about a half dozen together. When they first appeared they were red and inflamed and itched very much. I scratched them so they bled and then they developed into sores. The disease spread to my other hand, and face. At one time my face got so full of pimples and they itched so much I was ashamed to go out on the street.

"When I bathed they became inflamed. I treated for them but instead of getting better I became worse, and by this time my disease became so bad that I could not sleep or eat. Finally when I began to despair of getting better a friend told me to try Cuticura Soap and Ointment. I sent for samples and used them. I took a hot bath, using Cuticura Soap, and then applied the Cuticura Ointment to the affected parts before going to bed. When I woke up the next morning the itching had stopped. Within three weeks I had no sign of a pimple. I was entirely cured." (Signed) E. Marks, Dec. 16, 1911.

Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment are sold throughout the world. Liberal sample of each mailed free, with 32-p. Skin Book. Address post-card "Cuticura, Dept. T, Boston."

Tender-faced men should use Cuticura Soap Shaving Stick, 25c. Sample free.

WILSON DECLINES INVITATION.

Will Not Attend Dedication of Cleveland Birthplace in Caldwell, N. J.

WASHINGTON, March 13.—President Wilson today declined an invitation to be present March 18, Grover Cleveland's birthday, at the dedication of the Cleveland birthplace in Caldwell, N. J., as a public memorial. The President wrote to John H. Finley, president of the College of the City of New York, expressing his regret and eulogizing the character of Mr. Cleveland.

"I wish with all my heart it were possible, consistently with the performance of my new duties here, to be present on the occasion of the dedication of Mr. Cleveland's birthplace to the public as a memorial, but, inasmuch as I am bound here by obligations I cannot escape, I must content myself with requesting that you will read this brief message to those assembled.

"From the first, I have been deeply interested in the plan to acquire Mr. Cleveland's birthplace for the public and this consummation of the plan seems to me of great significance and a delightful omen. I think it must be evident to every one who has given attention to the matter that the feeling of the country—the feeling alike of admiration and affection—towards Mr. Cleveland grows warmer and warmer as the years pass by. As we see him in just perspective, he looms up as one of the most notable figures in our long line of Presidents. I send these lines, therefore, as a sincere tribute of respect and admiration.

"May I not add also my hope that the administration of the property may be productive of pleasure and stimulation to those engaged in it and a real profit to the community at large."

CABINET MEMBERS OFF.

Bryan to Attend Celebration of Anniversary of His Birth in Lincoln.

WASHINGTON, March 13.—Beginning today there will be an exodus of members of President Wilson's official family for their homes. Secretary Bryan probably will bring up the rear of the procession, for he will not leave until Sunday for his home in Lincoln, Nebraska, where he will attend a celebration in honor of the fifty second anniversary of his birth. He will be gone until March 27.

Secretary Redfield of the Commerce Department probably will leave late today for his home in Brooklyn, to arrange his private business affairs. Secretary of War Garrison also will leave to put his private business in order and will be gone several days. Secretary Houston, who presides over the Agricultural branch, will return to St. Louis to close up his affairs.

LIPTON EXPRESSES GREATEST SURPRISE.

Disappointed, as He Expected Challange to be Accepted.

No Time Yet to Consider Whether He Will Amend Conditions.

LONDON, March 13.—Sir Thomas Lipton, challenger for the America's cup, expressed the greatest surprise today when informed of the decision of the New York Yacht Club declining his challenge, because it did not comply with the conditions of the deed of gift governing contests for the cup. Neither Sir Thomas nor the Royal Ulster Yacht Club had at the time been officially notified of the rejection of the challenge and Sir Thomas said he had not had time to consider whether he would amend the conditions of his challenge so as to meet the objections of the New York yachtsmen. He expects, however, to confer with his designer, Charles E. Nicholson of Gosport, on the subject.

Sir Thomas, of course, fully recognizes the right of the New York Yacht Club to decline his challenge, because of the stipulation that the defending yacht must be of the same size as the challenger. Nevertheless he is greatly disappointed, as he fully expected that the challenge would be accepted. He said:

"It is the duty of the challenger for the America's cup to state the size of the boat with which he intends to race, as well as name the days on which the races are to take place. In this I conformed entirely with the conditions of the deed of gift.

"The size of 75 feet on the water line which I stipulated is larger than that of any cutter of that type on this side of the Atlantic and as big as any in America, with the exception of the Reliance. The race would have been a good one, while there would have been no race at all if the defender were a 90-foot yacht racing against my 75-footer. I therefore suggested that both should be 75 feet on the water line.

"I wanted no favors and made what I considered a fair sporting offer, according to the conditions governing the America's cup. When I challenged six years ago under the sailing rules which govern all yachts racing in America my challenge was declined because it did not comply with the conditions of deed of gift and legally the New York Yacht Club had the right to do so.

"Now, when I challenge according to the deed of gift, my challenge is declined because I will not allow a 90-foot yacht to race against my 75-footer, although everything would have favored the defender.

"After tuning up the challenger here I should have had to put in ocean rig and then on reaching America should have had to change it to racing rig again. All this is to the advantage of the defender.

"It has surprised me very much that the New York Yacht Club has rejected my challenge and the more so because Americans always have given me every consideration.

"Although there has been a crop of rumors every year in regard to challenges for the America's cup since the last race, 10 years ago, nobody has come forward and I naturally thought that New York yachtsmen would like to have another contest, particularly when the challenge was made under the America's cup rules."

It is understood that Charles Allom, the owner of yacht Istria, who has been racing for a few years, is a prospective challenger for the America's cup. Charles E. Nicholson built Istria for him and during the past year he made some attempt to organize a syndicate to build a challenger, but it was understood that the matter had fallen through. Mr. Allom, it is believed, is at present in the United States.

Sir Thomas this afternoon said there was little likelihood that he would modify his challenge or that he would race with a 90-footer.

NOT REALLY UNANIMOUS.

New York Yacht Club Member Says Action Was Railroaded.

NEW YORK, March 13.—Intimation that a challenge from some other English yachtsman than Sir Thomas Lipton, for the America's cup, is anticipated by members of the New York Yacht Club caused considerable speculation in yachting circles today, but there was no answer to the question who the prospective challenger might be.

Rumors of a new challenge were coincident with the decision which the New York Yacht Club reached last night to decline the Lipton challenge, made in his behalf by the Royal Ulster Yacht Club. It came as a surprise to many members of the club, when they read the challenge for the first time last night, to find that Sir Thomas not only proposed a challenging vessel not to exceed 75 feet on the water line, but that he would require the defender to be of the same dimensions.

The deed of gift of the America's cup allows competing vessels of any length from 65 feet to 90 feet and the maximum length has always prevailed. To be forced to reduce this to a 75-feet limit, under the terms of the challenge, was held by the New York club to be contrary to the spirit of the deed of gift.

The vote in rejection of Lipton's terms was given as "unanimous," but this means unanimity of only 40 out of the 306 members of the club who attended last night's meeting. The 40 members, however, were all who were privileged to vote, as the balloting was confined to the actual boat-owning members present. Among other members there was protest against the alleged arbitrary action of the club. Evans R. Dick, Jr., a member of the club, declared that the motion to reject the challenge was "railroaded" through the meeting.

"The yachtsmen of this country admit almost unanimously," he said, "that the type of yacht which has defended the club within recent years has been the sort of vessel which makes for all that is undesirable in yachting. The present yacht-racing measurements of the New York Yacht Club were made to drive this very type of yachts out of existence. The recent defenders have been racing machines pure and simple, which are and can be of no use whatever for the purpose of yachting after the race. They are either laid up for junk or kept out of commission during the long interval between races."

Had she not sunk at that time she would have gone to pieces right then and there.

NEW YORK, March 13, Wall Street—The market opened with Amalgamated Copper at 69, American Beet Sugar 23, American Smelting and Refining 68½, Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe 100¾, Baltimore & Ohio 100¾, Canadian Pacific 222½, Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul 108½, Colorado Fuel and Iron 33, Erie 27, Great Northern preferred 126½, Northern Pacific 115½, Pennsylvania 118¾, Reading 155, Southern Pacific 99⅞, Union Pacific 147⅞, United States Steel 59⅞, United States Steel preferred 107¾, Lehigh Valley 154¼.

10—Opening prices of stocks were generally lower today. Declines among the leading speculative issues were small, but a number of the specialties were depressed a point or more. Goodrich, Woolworth and Colorado Fuel receded a point and Canadian Pacific 2. American Locomotive advanced 1½ and Sears Roebuck 1.

11—Large inroads were made on prices of various important stock before there was any evidence of support, which pulled up the list somewhat. Union Pacific touched 147¼ near the week's lowest and Reading, Amalgamated and Can sagged a point. Several specialties went down rapidly, Corn Products preferred losing 1¾ and Beet Sugar 2¾.

Noon—Experiencing comparatively little opposition in jamming down prices at the outset today, bear traders put out extensive short lines for a time. They were assisted in lowering the general level by a display of weakness at new points among the specialties. The successive downward swings recently, strengthened the opinion the market was a liquidating one, in which stocks were being sold on all rallies. The complexion of the market changed, however, when another severe break in sterling exchange rates occured, which seemed to prelude the chances of further gold exports. Prices rebounded strongly in all directions, with many rallies of 1 to 2 points. Bonds were irregular. Money on call, strong, at 5 per cent; prime mercantile paper, 5½ to 6 per cent. Exchanges, $323,701,098; balances, $15,675,878.

THE BEGGING EVIL.

If People Cannot Collect Bills, How Can They Meet Appeals?

To the Editor of The Daily News:

Dear Sir: I am somewhat amused, as well as others, at the article on "Continuous Begging," which is very good in its way, but it is signed "One who does not fear criticism." If the signer does not fear criticism, why doesn't he sign his name? I do not believe people should write such an article, or any other article, if they have not sufficient courage to be openly known in the matter.

Of course, begging for all sorts of things will never cease, but I certainly do think there is a limit, particularly now that the fashion has been started to live on the "fat of the land," enjoy yourself and then settle 70 cents on the dollar. I have been out of business for some two or three months, but I have a vague recollection that several large and influential families forgot to settle their bills before leaving. Now, if people cannot collect their bills, are obliged to sue, or make attachments, how are they going to support the different appeals which come up daily?

At this writing I have on my desk two rival appeals, both of which are for an excellent purpose, but also very expensive to fulfill. One who is interested in the "begging question" stated to me last night that there were some 56 different yearly appeals made in this city, not counting the churches.

There is one matter which is very pernicious, and that is allowing or permitting children to solicit in the public streets, for the aid of charity. It makes them "cheeky" and impertinent, and if you don't buy the tickets you may hear something about being a "right-wad".

The fact of the matter is that we must use our own judgment in the matter of appeals and must learn how to say "No," but for Heaven's sake stop the "Pro Bono Publico," "Well-Meaning Citizen," and "One who does not fear criticism" style of signature.

"TRADE AT HOME" THE CRY.

Board Committee Planning Campaign of Education for the Public.

Question of Holiday Closing, With Reference to Other Cities, Also to be Taken Up.

"Trade at home." "Trade in Newport." This is the style of advertising in which organizations of the business men of most cities are now indulging to advantage, and which promises to be adopted by the Newport merchants. With the coming of the spring revival of trade and consequent activity on the part of out-of-town houses to attract business from other cities by the aid of the parcel post or personal visits, and the usual avalanche of spring catalogues, the committee on home trading of the Newport Board of Trade at its monthly meeting Wednesday evening made a report on that part of its plans, which seemed to be particularly urgent just at present. Mr. B. F. Downing, 3d., chairman of the committee, made a verbal report. Mr. David Cæsar is the secretary.

Mr. Downing gave an outline of what is being done in other cities by similar organizations and the need for Newport to do the same. The committee felt that it was not a question of advisability but one of positive necessity for the good alike of the men in business and the public they serve. To combat the evil which exists, the committee proposed the printing of several thousand copies of an agreement to be circulated to the shopping public of Newport. In addition it recommended a "home trading day," which the merchants shall feature in their advertisements and their stores, and thus bring the subject forcibly to the attention of the public.

The committee was authorized to have the arguments printed and placed for distribution, and with the committee was left the matter of deciding upon a day when every merchant shall feature "Shop at Home" in his advertisements and otherwise. It seemed to be the sense of the two dozen business men at the meeting that the advice and plans of the committee were good.

Mr. William B. Sherman presented the question of holiday closing, being of the belief that there should be some formal way of determining on what days the stores should close. Especially should consideration be given to what days the stores in other cities close, so that it would not be convenient for one to trade in some other city on a day when the stores here are closed. It was announced that the board proposed to take up the matter of holiday closing, so that the public, the merchants and their employes might know what to expect, and plan accordingly.

There was quite a discussion on the matter of home trading and it was the contention that, quality for quality, prices in Newport are as low as elsewhere. The matter of paying commissions to employes acting as purchasing agents also caused some talk.

There was mention of the fact that some of the men appointed on committees, because they seemed to be particularly fitted for the work, were not members of the board. One or two votes were taken on the subject in various forms, but no change was effected in the situation. It seemed to be the idea that the organization is young and there are many to come in who have not done so as yet.

The question of permanent quarters and a permanent secretary was brought up, but it was felt that the time for action on these matters was not opportune and that it should be left until the annual meeting. Secretary Commerford announced that he was only filling in, as it were, until then. The matter of compensation for the secretary was left with the board of directors.

President Titus announced the appointment of Thomas P. Peckham, L. K. Carr, John R. Austin, Herbert L. Dyer and John C. Seabury as a nominating committee.

Superintendent C. L. Bisbee, William G. Creaney and Harry Boudreau were elected members.

Mr. F. P. Garrettson offered the use of his private office for the board, if desired.

LOCKS HERSELF OUT.

Awkward Plight of Miss Léveroni, Singing in Knickbockers.

An amusing story has leaked out from the Boston Opera House which concerns most particularly Miss Elvira Leveroni, the contralto who will be heard here. In "The Tales of Hoffmann," recently given, Miss Leveroni was cast for the part of Niklausse, the constant companion of Hoffmann, the poet-hero of the opera. It was her first masculine role and she did not feel exactly at home in the garments of the opposite sex. In order that the necessary freedom and familiarity might be brought about it was suggested that Miss Leveroni wear them at rehearsals and accustom herself to a manly stride and deportment. Thus the contralto appeared each night in knickerbockers, while the other artists were content with street clothes.

One night the rehearsal lasted until an unusually late hour and except one or two artists and the accompanist every one had gone home and the big opera house was deserted. Miss Leveroni hastened to her dressing room to change for her usual garb, when to her dismay she discovered that she had left her door key on her dressing table, slammed the door and locked herself out. The only person who had a duplicate key was the superintendent and he had been gone some hours.

It was almost midnight and, tired after the long practice the singer was on the verge of tears. She knew that she could not go home as she was, and the laughter of her two companions did not appeal to her sense of the comic. Just in time along came Signor Fabi, the librarian of music, and he gallantly offered his overcoat. Although it reached only to the knees, it afforded sufficient protection to enable Miss Leveroni to walk the few blocks to her apartment. Needless to say, that dressing room key has not been left behind since that night.

STEAMERS NOT WORTH IT.

Present Machines Would Not Warrant Expense of Tractors.

To the Editor of the Daily News.

Dear Sir: I should like to reply to the letter of Mr. Booth, "Steam has its advantages", especially as this letter practically proves the reliability and efficiency of motor fire apparatus. It suggests motor tractors, or the purchase of motor apparatus to haul the horse-drawn machines now in use. If Newport possessed a few first-class steamers it might be well to think of placing them on tractors, but we have no steamers that would warrant the expenditure of $5,000 for a tractor. The tractor, as Mr. Booth states, is but a makeshift, and used for steamers operating in a mercantile district, and lacks not only speed for runs to outlying districts, but also adds to the length of the apparatus, making a clumsy affair.

Every one realizes the great value of chemical fire apparatus, and realizing this value the motor engine has combined this department, not to displace the chemical wagon, but to add to it, by giving an additional chemical outfit. It even goes further, in carrying ladders for chemical use on roofs, etc.

Mr. Booth gives the impression that, in the purchase of a triple combination motor fire engine, we would displace our chemical wagon, but no such idea was thought of. The combination motor would replace nothing but the 48-year-old No. 1 steamer and hose reel, and thus re-inforce the department by adding one first-class piece of apparatus, that would respond to all calls, going over the Ocean drive, to the beaches, or to the Mile Corner, being able to use chemical or water, as the case demanded, and that could hold any fire in check until the arrival of other apparatus.

The American La France Company, an old and reliable firm in the manufacture of all kinds of fire apparatus, has in the past two and one half months sold 89 pieces of motor apparatus, valued at $1,000,000, and during the same period sold one piece of horse-drawn.

We have plenty of third-class apparatus. Let's make a start for first-class.

A DUTCH FEAST.

Members of Red Men's Club Help Mr. Koschny Celebrate.

The Red Men's Club had a Dutch feast Wednesday night, and it was "some time." Arthur S. Koschny desired to celebrate his birthday and the greater part of the membership turned out to help him do it. The guests were not a bit more pleased than was the host, for while he sprang a few surprises the guests had a few things up their sleeves, not excepting the "little Cherman band," which marched in and helped enliven the evening. During the day the chefs at the Koschny establishment were busily engaged in preparing the feast, which comprised a mock turtle soup and a herring salad, both seasoned to tickle the palate of an epicure, while the quantity seemed endless.

Chairman Stanhope of the house committee, in the name of the club, presented to the host a fine gold Red Men's watch fob, preacing his remarks by some sentiments relative to the club's being the oldest in the city. He then turned to a lighter vein, dwelling upon the accentuated characteristics as the cartoonists would say, of many of the members.

MUSICALE AND TEA.

Linen Fund of Hospital Aid Association Augmented.

Mrs. Charles W. Stewart opened her residence on Kay and Touro streets Wednesday afternoon for a musicale and tea for the benefit of the linen fund of the Women's Aid Association of the Newport Hospital. There was a large attendance and a good sum was raised.

Mrs. Stanley C. Hughes sang several selections, Schubert's serenade, "Through the Leaves," and three songs by Robert Franz. Mrs. Melhorn, wife of Surgeon Kent C. Melhorn, rendered piano selections, two sonatas by Scarlatti, a rhapsody by Brahms and a prelude and etude by Chopin. Mr. Ray Groff gave on the violin a concerto from "Canzonetta" by Godard, and a concerto in A minor by De Beriot.

Miss Ruth Thomas and Miss Natalie Willard assisted Mrs. Stewart in serving tea.

SENIORS THE CHAMPIONS.

Junior Middles Defeated, 24 to 17, in Strangest Contest of the Series.

East Greenwich Basket Ball Five Challenges Rogers Team for a Deciding Game.

The Senior basket ball team proved itself champion of the Rogers High School class league Wednesday afternoon, defeating the Junior Middles, 24 to 17, in one of the strangest games in the series. The first half was all in favor of the Seniors, the score being 15 to 3. They shot from every position, passed all around the losers, and had things much their own way. In the middle of the second the Junior Middles "came back" with a vengeance and in quick order had six goals. The bewildered Seniors were obliged to hustle to stop the spurt, which they did, however.

The gaining of the championship by the Seniors put the Senior Middles in second place, while the Junior Middles go down to third, and the Juniors occupy the place they always had, at the bottom. The one game of the six which the Seniors lost was to the Junior Middles. Since the present champions, the class of 1913, have been in the school they have had athletics their own way, as they won football and basket ball class championships in their first year, and have also been represented largely in the different varsity teams, especially in the champion football and basket ball teams.

In the first half the champions started the scoring and did not let up, while the Junior Middles made but one goal from the field and one foul. Wyllie started the scoring for the winners and made four, while Helme and Dring each had one, Helme making three from the foul line. Pinto, the losers' foul shoter, made one from a foul and Westerdahl was the only other Junior Middle to score, from the floor. With the record 16 to 3 against them, the Junior Middles in the second half displayed much better form, and after a while the Seniors saw they had run up against a different proposition. The Junior Middles' star pair of forwards, Diggles and Fletcher, had not been heard from in the first, but with Fletcher at centre the shooting combination which has been so conspicuous in other games went into action. Fletcher dropped in three and Diggles two, while Pinto added another. Wyllie and Jennings each made one, and Dring two, however, which headed off the Junior Middles' lead. "Time out" was called with 30 seconds to play, and in those Pinto scored on a foul and Wyllie made the last goal of the game. The score of the second half was 14 to 9, in the Junior Middles' favor.

Wyllie played the feature game, being first in scoring and his passing and floor work being a feature. The two Senior forwards, Helme and Jennings, worked well together, and made many brilliant series of passes, while of the backs Dring was active and Jemail had his basket well protected, stopping many dangerous tries. Pinto played well in the Junior Middles' back field, and Fletcher's and Diggles's work in the second half was excellent. The summary:

Seniors.		Junior Middles.
Jennings, l. f.		r. g., Denniston
Helme, r. f.		l. g., Pinto
Wyllie, c.		c., Westerdahl, Fletcher
Dring, l. g.		r. f., Westerdahl, Fletcher
Jemail r. g.		l. f., Diggles

Score—Seniors 24, Junior Middles 17. Goals from floor—Wyllie 5, Dring 3, Helme, Jennings, Fletcher 3, Diggles 2, Pinto, Westerdahl. Goals from fouls—Helme 4, Pinto 3. Missed foul tries—Helme 4, Westerdahl 2, Diggles 2, Fletcher 2. Referee—Chase. Timer—Mason.

The final standing of the teams is as follows:

	Won	Lost	Per cent.
Seniors	5	1	.833
Senior Middles	4	2	.667
Junior Middles	3	3	.500
Juniors	0	6	.000

The East Greenwich Academy basket ball five, victors over a long list of Rhode Island amateur teams, has issued a challenge to the Rogers High School for a game to decide the interscholastic basketball championship of the state. The East Greenwich boys have beaten all the Rhode Island teams on their schedule this winter, and Rogers appears the only logical contestant to their claim of the championship. The only stipulation in the challenge is that the game shall be played either on their home floor or on a neutral floor.

The Young Men's Christian Association basket ball five defeated the Reading Athletic Club at the Mary Street gymnasium Wednesday evening by a score of 22 to 16. Following is the line-up and summary:

Y. M. C. A.		Reading A. C.
Brack, Nolan, r.f.		l.b., Tierney
Arnold, l.f.		r.b., Hussey, Hagerty
Buchanan, Keiffer, c.		c., Casey
Reynolds, r.b.		l.f., Leary
Burke, Brack, l.b.		r.f., Pahlow

Score—Y. M. C. A. 22, Reading 16. Goals from floor—Brack 4, Arnold 4, Reynolds 2, Leary 2, Casey 2, Buchanan, Pahlow, Hagerty, Tierney. Goal from fouls—Casey. Referee—Slocum. Scorer—Carr.

SOUTHERN NAVY YARDS.

Secretary Daniels to Study Situation and Encourage Publicity.

A meeting of the General Board of the navy was held in Washington Wednesday to discuss the navy yard situation in the South, Secretary Daniels, being present. Mr. Daniels has received petitions from Pensacola and New Orleans, protesting against the policy of the former administration of closing those yards as unavailable for naval use. He will study the reports of the General Board on the subject and will also make a personal inspection of the yards before reaching a decision.

Mr. Daniels called a meeting of the aides and bureau chiefs, at which the question of publicity was discussed. Being a newspaper publisher, Mr. Daniels is a firm believer in the policy of letting the people know how the government is administered, and has made special effort to publish as much information about the work of the navy as can properly be given to the press. He urged the aides and bureau chiefs to make an effort to find items of public interest for him to give out when he receives the newspaper men at their daily interview with the Secretary.
